Witches & Knights & Unicorn Fights

BBButterwell

Once upon a time, Maeve Morgan decided to be born... but she doesn't quite remember why.

The other day, a voice told her to tell her own story... but she's not so sure just where to start, or quite when to stop.

Maeve Morgan just wants to be left alone on her island, to shingle her roof, and maybe catch a Gnome someday.

Meanwhile, in another Timeline...

*Bardlii Noonstar embarks on a mission to chronicle the adventures of a common hooded rat, which the Sentient City of Owl claims is destined be the Realms' next greatest Known Hero. *

And somehow, all of this will become connected.

Which of our narrators will untangle this curious knot, by bravely and surely advancing the plot?

There is no chapter numbered 12. Do not fear, this is intentional. I'll explain later, maybe.

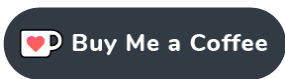

Eventually, I will learn how to produce a nice PDF with a title and table of contents and page numbering and all of the chapters in it, all at once, and in order. For now, you get the raw deal.

PDF updates will be released with both new chapters and fixes to existing ones, as opportunity permits.

This story is released under a Creative Commons license, which encourages its sharing, printing, and general enjoyment by all.

I hope you enjoy it.
